“ Throughout our lives, there are people we meet who leave a variety of positive impressions. Whether it's through their kindness, compassion, or unique personality they can affect us in ways that we will never forget. I think almost everyone that knew him can agree that Ed Phelps was one of those people. He had a dedication and a sentiment for most everything that mattered. I would often hear him down the hallway working with necessity to get something fixed while at the same time making us smile. I always looked forward to our talks in my office and getting his opinion on just about any topic that entered our discussion. Ed is missed, will be missed, and will always be one of those people that we will never forget. In Matthew 11:28 the Apostle writes "Come to me all you who are weary and burdened and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls." When we accept this invitation and put our faith in the Lord Almighty, death cannot hold us. It may physically put us to sleep but cannot stop us from living, believing, and being in the presence of our Lord. Ed surely leaves a void, but the truth in the scriptures gives solace. Ed was loved and respected by so many, and I will deeply miss him.

“ Ed was a tremendous blessing to those around him. He was smart, passionate and had a great sense of humor. Most of all, he had a kind heart. He was always willing to help those in need. I will cherish our many conversations about work and life. I'm so thankful that God allowed our paths to cross. We miss you my friend.

“ This was such a shock. Ed Phelps, was a true friend and there was nothing he would not do for you if you needed help. I remember offering the job to come to KTEN when I was there. One of the best decisions I ever made. He was often at our home doing something I just could not do. He made me laugh and I made him laugh. Such a good person with good heart and soul. You are now in the hands of God. I will miss you so much. May the Good Lord Keep you and take you into his arms, in all his Glory.

“ Ed was a good man, caring, compassionate and generous. He would give the the shirt off his back to anyone that needed it. Unfortunately we lost site of what mattered and we divorced.

However that does not change a thing. He was a genius when it came to computers, he will always be know as "the computer guy".

A customer of his lost her husband and Ed took on the task of trying to salvage her data off a broken phone. He worked relentlessly for hours on end, got frustrated and told me he could not get it. We talked for about 15 minutes and he went back to work trying to get the videos and photos off of this broken phone.

He had a very satisfied customer that day. He had to go on another service call that day and asked me to give her the memory stick with all her data.

When I handed it to her, she cried and told me to thank Ed. She was so pleased that he was able to give her back all her photos and precious memories of a husband that she lost.

Ed has touched more lives then he will ever know. And he will be greatly missed not only by the community that he server, but mostly by his many friends and family.

We conquered the world when we worked together and I will miss you as well.

Till we meet again.

“ I met Ed about 3 years ago and we became friends through him repairing my computer. In the last month, we had several conversations concerning the mindset of his divorce. We had several conversations that last too late in the night. One of the most recent he mentioned of taking his own life. I asked him if he had any sisters or brothers to please call them. He said he would. I talked to him the following day he said he had talked to his brother. In the conversation, we had that day Ed seemed that he was in a different place and in a better mental state of mind. I know he stayed busy and was sometimes hard to get a hold of but I sent him text to let him that the line of communication was open if he wanted to talk. Ed was a valued friend and am sorry to find out that he is gone. It saddens me deeply. BJ Smith

Many people will miss him to not take care of their networks all over the place but to just be around the man. We worked together so well speaking for all Vyve Broadband. He made our part so much easier and always there for us. Gonna miss that for sure but rest in peace my friend. See you soon in Heaven. Love you Lex, Love you Jamie and Love you Joyce.
