“ Brandon was one of the best men I knew! We had such a deep connection that I can't explain. We always wanted to be together but our lives just took separate paths... He was so smart, funny, caring, and the most thoughtful person anybody could be. My favorite memory of him is when he wrote me love letters and put them in my locker for weeks had me trying to figure out who wrote them lol most romantic thing anybody has ever done for me... Brandon you will be missed so much... I am glad you finally get to be free from your pain and take the journey that God has planned for you. I love you forever!

“ Bub, although you may not have known, you were one of my heroes. To experience the loss you had to in your life and still strive so hard to rise above, is something I admired in you. Now you are home with your family and I know now you are finally at peace.
