“ This was the last thing I expected to hear. Butch was our neighbor. He was a great neighbor. Always willing to help fix our driveway or whatever we needed. He called my husband just recently and said “We need to get that road fixed. Get you some gravel. Two loads or 12 yards of 1.5 inch road base gravel. Have it dumped at the end where the small pile is sitting. Get it today, I’m leaving on Thursday and won’t be able to do it if you don’t. “ I came home and it was spread and done. He knew we didn’t have a tractor and wasn’t able to do it. He was a caring person who always kept the interest of others in mind. We will miss him a lot. Ronnie and Jeannie Glaze

“ I met Butch while cattle dog trialing. He always was friendly and would help you out with anything you needed. He was a staunch competitor but rooted for everyone and was happy if you won and was always there to share his knowledge with you. He will be missed. Rest in peace ole bud. Brian Brown

“ Butch was a friend of mine I met through the Stockdog trials he and I would always argue over the way different dogs performed, bloodlines, cattle we drew, and of course the way the trial was laid out. We would get loud and carry on and in the end Butch would roll his eyes we would laugh and start telling guide stories. As Butch was a fishing guide for many years and I’ve retired from being a hunting guide for 38 years. We would see who could tell the funnest stories about the people we had guided for. I’m not sure which of us won the contest, wish we could continue the battle. You will be missed my buddy, Rest in peace
