“ My whole life i had a special place in my heart for Cindy. As a teenager She was the first person I had ever met that was straight out 110 wild and would do anything. Cindy had a lot of ups and down in life but always had her family and loved them very much. I always tried to help her and God used her to help me back in 2008 when life had really kicked me and I was feeling pretty down, she called me one day asked me to go to church with her. She had been going regularly at Truth Tabernacle in Denison and I said I'd love to and that got me started building my relationship with God and I'll be forever grateful for that and also for bringing into this life the most precious gift I've ever been given little Alex. Cindy and I had some bad blood between us for a awhile but couple years ago we apologized to each other and I'm thankful for that. I know when Cibdy closed her eyes here on earth she opened them to see Jesus who took her hand to go see her momma. I'll see her again in heaven also. TILL THEN CINDY ❤️
