“ Donna was always a great asset to our family, when my husband was out of work, she would call on him to help with day jobs that popped up and was overall a very nice person. Over the years we did not see each other much and then Marty started playing drums regularly at That County Music Place and we got to catch up on old times. She enjoyed her grand children and great grandchildren so much and her and JD attended every event they could. i will miss you, sweet friend. I know you're at peace with your beloved JD and they're probably playing music and watching ball games right now!
