“ Not a day goes by I don't think of you my brother... from the first day we became friends.. I would never think years later I'd be calling you my brother ... I could share memories on here but there's not enough space in the world to explain our relationship .. I'm hurting kid still I text you everyday STILL just hoping to get a text back.. but deep down I know a text won't come.. so everyday I wake up just looking for signs that hints your around !! .. only you and me know what we share and I'll forever hold on to that ... 2 weeks before all this we sat down and talked about getting the training on its feet !.. I won't let that go I'll keep it going !! Skylynn asked about you all the time !! Say I miss Unc Forrest.! Only thing I can say is me too baby me too ...mommma truly deep down misses you shoot she almost loved you more than me haha.. mannn coon !!
