“ Awfully saddened to hear of Jim's passing. :(My condolences to his loved ones and to all who knew him.

Oh but what a great guy Daj was, eh ! Hilariously funny, so generous with his time and knowledge, down to earth, and just the right amount of crazy. ;)

*Sittin' in the mornin' sun
I'll be sittin' when the evenin' comes.....*

Hope you are, Daj...

Rest well now, our friend.

“ It saddened me greatly when I heard of daj's passing, he was a good friend through emails and on abif for many years.. I didn't have the talent of animations and I tried but not successfully, but daj would help anyone learn.. he was such a nice guy and what I enjoyed more was looking at his animations and others that he helped, but he was the master animator .. so many of us will miss him very much.. and he made us all laugh.. rest in peace jim.. we will see you again

“ I met Jim, Dajimo as I knew him then, in 2005. I looked up to Daj as he was a super mentor for helping many people with his tutorials on animated GIFs. We have talked on the phone and many emails on so many subjects. He is a great friend! Daj had so many internet friends around the world! If I had known it in time, I would have been at his funeral!

I was very sadden to hear about his passing! My heart felt condolences to the family!

Rest in PEACE my friend!

“ I met Daj, as I knew Him, online in 2003. He was a good invisible but always there friend all the years since. I will never forget Him and His Humor. It was sad to follow His Illnesses in His Daily Emails as We swapped "War Stories" about each of our Illnesses.

“ So very sorry to hear of Jim's passing. I wish for peace and comfort to his family. I too was an internet friend . I regularly come upon his wonderful animations online on various sites. He was always generous in his tutorials and I remain very appreciative. Rest easy Dajimo. Until we meet again my friend.

“ So very sorry to hear about Jim's passing. I'm Tryker, another of his internet friends, of which he had many. I also knew him at first only by his internet name, Dajimo, from the ABIF newsgroup. He had posted a message offering to teach anyone who wanted to learn, how to turn a picture into an animation, and I took him up on it. Before long he was sending me lessons and critiquing my efforts to copy what he had done. We became good friends in the process and I liked and admired him very much. It seemed as if I had known him for ages, he just had a knack for making people feel that way. I know he will be sorely missed. My sincere condolences to the family.

Even though we were on different sides of the planet Jim, we had a great friendship. I will miss your emails, and the connection we had. I treasured the pipe you made me, and now even more. You were a great mate, and will be surely missed.

Till we meet in the Lords house Jim

Farewell mate

We had a lot of fun when we used to photoshop pics we called messing in the group we were all in called ABIF, and that's where our friendship started in 2008. We all had nick names, and Jim called himself Dajimo, and I didn't learn his name till years after when we started to email each other, but I still called him Daj. Even though I'm in Australia, and we have never met in person, we were great mates, and I will surely miss him.

“ I'm one of Jim's old "internet friends" that learned a lot from him in making animated GIFs. It's been some years since I last talked to him on the phone, but I understand he spent a lot of time holding on to his beloved fishing pole since he retired. And who could blame him!

He was always good to me, and let me into a circle of internet junkies that enjoyed making animations from still pictures and cartoons. I Saved several of them and show that he had a wicked sense of humor. I suspect that when my turn comes, I'll find him just by following the laughs.
