

Kevin Lynn Usry

September 1, 1962 - February 9, 2017

Kevin Lynn Usry, of Durant, Oklahoma, left this earthly life on Thursday February 9, 2017 too soon at the age of 54. He was born on September 1, 1962 to Gerald and Jeannie Usry in Durant, Oklahoma.

Kevin, father of four, loved his children and spending time with his family. He had an enthusiasm for fishing, and always had a smile when he had a fishing pole in his hands. Kevin enjoyed working outside and helping others. On Friday nights in the fall, you could hear Kevin cheering on the Durant Lions, and his boys on the field. Kevin loved watching his children play sports and was blessed enough to help coach them throughout their younger years. His children were his passion, and he enjoyed telling stories about how proud he was of them as they followed their dreams.

Throughout the years, Kevin enjoyed working in the Aerospace industry, as a Supervisor and a machinist.

He was preceded in death by his son, Devin Blake, whom he missed daily.

Kevin was survived by his son Bryan Usry of Durant, Oklahoma; Bryce Usry of Durant; his daughter Cierra Usry of Newkirk, Oklahoma; his parents Gerald and Jeannie Usry of Durant; his brother Kendall Usry of Durant; his sister Cynthia Armor and husband Curtis of Durant; his brother Kyle Usry and wife

Shaunda of Durant; his nephews Tyler Usry, Dylan Usry, Evan Armor, Matthew Usry and Tanner Davidson all of Durant; and his nieces Lauren Armor, Larissa Armor, Morgann Usry, Madison Usry and Trista Davidson all of Durant; and his great-niece Naomi Claire Usry of Durant.

Funeral services will be held at Brown's Funeral Service on Thursday, February 16, at 2:00 PM with Bro. Bill Ledbetter officiating. Family night will be held Wednesday, February 15 from 6:00 to 8:00. Interment will be in Highland Cemetery with Kendell Usry, Kyle Usry, Curtis Armor, Tyler Usry, Evan Armor, Matthew Usry, Tanner Davidson and Brandon Wylie serving as pallbearers. “ Kevin had, w/outa doubt, the biggest heart. He was volenerable as a result. He wore it on his sleve. When he loved, he loved w/no exceptions. When he was hurt, it ran just as deep. And, as life can be unfair~he was treated unfairly by life. He suffered from huge loss, the loss of a child. It was the most impactful, but not his only loss of love. Not by far. There would be a trail of people that would take his heart, faithful dedication, & his past & choose to use these things as a sharpening stone, to use against him & break his heart. Not that they cared, but his heart couldn't take it. There is only so much any man could take.

His lifelong friendship was near & dear to me. I always listened, cried, & held him with the highest regard. I never passed judgement. I encouraged over indulgence in the memories & lessons.

Together we had forged a promise to take life's lessons w/grace, dignity & growth. It to this day is my matra & a daily challenge to live up to.

He stayed close to very few. But he stayed close to me. From 1979 to today. He is still close to me. Now~dont get me wrong. He was the closest w/God. He was a man of God.

He cherished his siblings. Absolutely cherished. Would have done anything for them & would believe nothing bad about them. He loved & cherished his children. He never healed from the loss of his first. It over shadowed the way he loved after the huge loss. How can you love like you have never been hurt before, after all? And, even that sexy 'Elvis' smile couldn't mask the pain.

May he rest in peace. May God give him a free pass. May he be waiting at the gates of Heaven w/his baby boy in his arms w/my welcome committee, when I get to go home. I loved this man. I wish you could have seen him like I did. I wish he could have shared w/you like he shared w/me. It's a friendship we were grateful for, nurished - never took for granted - and was based on ingergerity. As was he. From teenagers to the great beyond, I miss my friend.
