“ My heart is heavy for the lose of my dearest friend Lee White. But it is also glad for knowing that he excepted Christ into his heart. I would not have the life I have now if it was not for him. I will miss hearing the many stories he would tell and all ways saying it would get better after Christmas. Lee loved his family and his dog smokey more than life its self. I'am grateful to have know such a great person and proud to say he was my friend. Lee will be missed by many. My prayer's for the White family.
