“ A bunch of us went out one night and when it was closing time Leonard said he wasn't ready to go home so he asked me to go with him to an all night restaurant called Country Cabin. We're sitting there drinking coffe and talking when in come the police and they walk up to our table and we're like "hey, we didn't do it". They told me what happened so Leonard took me home. Come to find out, my daughter about 10 years old at the time, woke up and found me gone and called 911. My cousin woke up to police knocking at the door and her explaining that she knew where I was and that I wasn't missing or kidnapped and knew where we were. I couldn't be mad at her because she was looking for her mama. Every time we went somewhere after that Leonard would always tell me to tell her I was in good hands. We laughed about it so many times. He said that's the last thing in the world he ever expected was to be accused of kidnapping a woman, lol. Good memories.
