“ I'll never forget the summers I got to come visit. You borrowed Aunt Opal's car I got to go with you. Talk about burning the streets of Texas up smokin those tires. I got a lecture before we went home about not mentioning anything about the way you drive to Aunt Opal and I remember she did ask but I don't remember if I gave you up. I hope not. Thank you, for everything you are the best man I've ever known. Fly high to the angels Aunt Opal and everyone else is waiting.
