“ Marcelle was always helping with Campfire Girls (at that time) as leader and mentor. I remember many craft projects we would work on, she was always sharing her many talents with us girls. Sometime we would visit nursing homes, baking goodies to take there with us. We learned and practiced Roberts Rules of Order at our meetings. We would sometimes all load up in the station wagon and travel to out of town events. Her service to God was obvious in her service to others and her community. She was always that pillar of stability and knowledge. I remember often times the quilting racks pushed to the side so we could hold our meetings. Sometimes we would be fortune enough to help put in a few stitches as long as it was right. She was always helping with classroom things when called upon which seemed quite often and was always bringing something we loved. I also recall her and Margaret used Grandmothers recipe for those delicious donuts. Mother would always buy a dozen for the store and a dozen for home. She and Roy were some of our chaperones when our class took our senior trip. We all loaded our luggage onto their trailer divided up into different cars and headed out for our last adventure as a class. In Eastern Star I recall her beautiful memory work, she always gave the lecture of Martha, what a great story. I have not heard anyone give the lecture with such meaning and true devotion as Marcelle. She also did a wonderful part on tributes at our Altar ceremony.

“ Marcelle was my Sunday School teacher when we came to Caddo Methodist from Buffalo, 6 miles east of Caddo, when I was just a little girl. She was one of the kindest, sweetest, and most beautiful ladies that I had met. Marcelle always showed her love for Jesus, her sweet precious family, and her community. All through school, then after I graduated, married and started a family, and began teaching at Caddo School she was always there for me encouraging me and sharing her great Christian Witness that made all of the lives of the people she knew better. Jerry and I have always valued and cherished Marcelle's and all her precious family's friendship in our life. When we went to visit her at Brookdale after we came back from Boswell she would always tell us how much she enjoyed our visits, but we were the ones who were blessed. She always gave us a lift in our spirits and joy in our hearts each visit. You are all, as I know you know, so blessed my such a great Lady, Mom, Grandmom, Great and Maybe even Great, Great Grandmom, Friend, and Beautiful Lady of the Community. Love, Linda and Jerry Combrink. P. S. I can almost smell those delicious donuts she and Margaret would bring to the Caddo School to share with the elementary teachers and probably many others when they had one of their baking days. Those brown paper bags with the warmth coming through made our day.
