“ Dear Jolie, one night we wher playing at my house late in the afternoon and your family didn't know where you were! And Ruby came and got you and made you walk home, I thought it was really funny. She also came back in and got onto me but she came back into the house without knocking on the front door and my mom thought it was funny! She told me to “make you go home next time” I will miss things like that.

You where loved Ruby
