“ I only got to know Stan these last 6 months working with him. In that short amount of time he made me laugh, made me think and made me challenge myself. I really enjoyed our talks. Its a special person that can have an impact in a short amount of time. Rest easy Stan the Safety man, we will miss you here.

“ It is difficult for me to put into words how Stanley Whites life affected me, and I will always remember him with love and respect. Stanleys heart was so huge, with such capacity for love, and I valued his friendship above many that I have made in Durant in the past 40 years. He always gave me more credit than was due, yet that was Stanleys way. He was a true friend to many of us and the world is a little less warm without him in it. RIP my friend. loveyoumissyou

“ When we joined Fairview ten years ago, one of the first people that Kristin and I got to know well was Stan. He would do anything for you, even when he didnt have much. He called himself "Mayor of the Valley" for all the hard times hed experienced, mostly because of his health. He never quit, though. Stan was out of that valley after many years, enjoying life, working in a career he cared about. Im grateful for that.

Ill miss his goofy phone calls, pretending he was answering a nonexistent trivia question, doing his best to make me laugh.

We say Rest in Peace, though I dont think Stan will rest much. Hell ask the Lord for things to do, hed say he rested enough these years recovering from heart surgery and the loss of his leg. He is resting from all those things that had kept him in the Valley so many years, though. Now hes truly on the mountain top.

Goodbye for now, buddy.
